DARING IS ATTEMPT ON LAST NIGHT

The police are searching for a well dressed man who early last evening made a sensational and bold attempt to rob Carl Zanhaiser, an employee of the Stege quarry. The attempted hold-up occured at the corner of Stockton and Richmond avenues shortly after 6 o'clock.

Zanhaiser had left the quarry and was on his way to Richmond. At the corner of Stockton and Richmond avenues, a well dressed man stepped into the path of Zanhaiser. Drawing a revolver the man pointed it at Zanhaiser. "Throw up your hands, or you are a dead man. I'm desperate," ordered the stranger.

Instead of obeying the order, Zanhaiser struck the pistol to one side and dashed down the street. With an oath, the burglar disappeared into the darkness.

Arriving at his home, Zanhaiser telephoned to Constable Davis at Stege, and a thorough search of the district was made. The local police were also notified and are searching for the man.

The hold up man is described as being about five feet ninet inches in height: clean shaven: and about fifty years of age. He wore a dark slouch hat, which was pulled down over his eyes.

Employees of Bates, Borland and Ayres, contractors, stated that they had seen a stranger about the place earlier in the evening but were unable to locate the man.

Zanhaiser had $25 in his possession and also a valuable watch and chain.

"'It was just dusk," said Zanhaiser last night "and I was going towards Richmond. At the corner of Richmond and Stockton avenues, I noticed a man coming in my direction. As I started to pass, he drew a large revolver and pointing it directly at my face, said "Throw up your hands, or you are a dead man. I'm desperate. "I was startled and frightened. Without thinking of the danger I swung my right hand and struck the pistol up into the air. Then I ran. I heard the fellow utter an oath and I turned and saw him walk away. I didn't stop to follow him, however and kept right on to my home, from where I telephoned to Constable Davis. The man appeared to be well educated and refined. He was fairly well dressed. I had $25 in my pocket and a gold watch and chain in my possession at the time."

The hold-up rivals in daring that of the Bonear Bar on Macdonald avenue sveral months ago. That the hold-up man had evidently made careful plans for the hold-up was evident.

The police of Richmond are watching all street cars and it is not expected that the man will escape unless he has gotten into Alameda county.

Are Gathering Data For The Proposed Local Labor Ordinance

Yesterday was a busy one for the members of the city council. A majority of the council are real boosters. They want to see the city prosper and realizing that if they can make it possible to give local people the work on public jobs they will be accomplishing the greatest good ever done for the city are working to make the proposition a reality.

City Attorney D. J. Hall is burning the midnight oil looking into the matter and it is not likely that when the year of 1916 opens the people of Richmond will have attained the coveted goal.

Advices on just what procedure has been taken by the Sacramento city and county officials are expected within the course of the next few days.

The move is one of the most important ever taken by any city. The council members indicate their desire to build up Richmond and are to be complimented upon their stand in the matter.

Richmond has fought for this oportunity to prosper for years. This is no original action by a long ways. It had many obstacles that have been placed in the way.

Now, however, after these years of patient and consistent struggle, the city appears certain to win. Of more than anything ever accomplished by the city fathers will be the passage of some sort of a law, or ordinance, or as K. C. B., the famous scribe would say "or whatever it is," giving local labor the preference in public work.

The people are certainly entitled to have something to say in the expending of their taxes. And let us all hope that it happens soon.

GIVE VERDICT IN THE HALL CASE

The coroner's jury in the case of Victor J. Hall, who was found dead in his bed at Selby Thursday morning, last rendered a verdict that Hall had "come to his death from mycardicis." The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from St. Mark's Catholic church. Interment will be made in St. Joseph's cemetary. A mother and two brothers survive. The Small-Wood Undertaking Parlors have charge of the funeral arrangements.

CHIEF DRAUGHTSMAN IS JAILED: CHARGED WITH PASSING BAD CHECKS

Horace B. Jones, chief draughtsman at the Best Traction company in Elmhurst occupies quarters in the city police station, on a charge of passing fictitious checks. Jones who is well dressed and bonair refuses to make any comment on his arrest. Jones was arrested yesterday at his home 9850 East Fourteenth street, Elmhurst, on a warrant of the Beverly apartments.

It is alleged that Jones passed several checks on Mrs. Yarbrough in payment of his board bill. These it is said, were not honored by the bank.

THE ROAD LIFE DOES NOT SATISFY BOY

Three youthful wanderers were taken into custody by the police last night. Two of the three nomads did not desire to be returned to places of asylum, but the third stated that his appetite for the "wanderlust" had been appeased.

The two who did not want to "go home" are Gordon Burke, 14 and Percy Plympton, 16, escaped from the detention home at Santa Rosa. The third was Joseph McCauley, 17 who ran away from his home in McGregor, Texas a month ago.

Burke and Plympton were taken into custody by Officer Jones in Pullman. They protested against their arrest but after some argument "agreed" to be the guest of the city.

McCauley approached Officer Cox at the Southern Pacific station.

He explained that he had run away from his home a month ago to see the world. "I've seen all I want to see for some time declared the young wanderer." Please Mr. Officer have me sent home. Gee whiz, I sure had a rough time of it that month."

The boy appeared as if the life on the "road" was anything but a pleasure.

HOW THE RED CROSS SEAL ORIGINATED

Nearly $1,800,000 has been raised by Red Cross Christmas Seals in the last six years, and yet many people who will buy these holiday stickers at this seventh annual sale do not know how the charity stamp idea originated.

It was the war that brought forth the charity stamp—our Civil war of '61 to '65. Some of your grandmothers first played "post-office" with stickers similar to Red Cross Seals, away back in 8162, when they conceived the idea of selling stamps at fairs for the benefit of the relief funds for the soldiers' hospitals in Brooklyn, Boston and elsewhere. Nearly $1,000,444 was raised in this way before 1865. After the war this method was discontinued in this country for a generation, although it found vogue in Portugal, Switzerland, Austria, France, Spain, Denmark, Norway, Russia, Sweden and otether European countries. There are now several thousand of different types of charity stamps used in all parts of the world, as many as forty being used in Austria for children's hospitals alone.

Stamps on seals were first used to get money for the anti tuberculosis crusade in Norway and Sweden in 1904. To Jacob Riis, the well-known social worker of New York, and to Miss Emily P. Bissell, the energetic secretary of the Deleware Red Cross, jointly belong the honor of originating our American Red Cross Christmas Seal. In 1909, Mr. Riis' interest was aroused by the receipt of a Christmas tuberculosis stamp on a letter from Norway. He published an article about this queer looking stamp in the "Outlook," and suggested some possible uses for it in this country. Miss Bissell at once saw an oportunity here and prepared a stamp, from the sale of which her society realized $3,000 for tuberculosis work. So impressed was she with her success that she induced the American Red Cross to take up the sale in 1908 on a national basis. With very little organization and with hardly any attempt at careful advertising the sale that year brought in, nevertheless, over $135,000 for anti-tuberculosis work in various parts of the United States. In 1909, with a more thorough organization, the sale was increased to nearly $310-000; in 1911 to over $300,000, and in 1912 to over $400,000. Last year the sale was increased to nearly 45,000,000 seals, netting $450,000 for the anti-tuberculosis campaign.

It is fitting to note that war, inhuman and cruel, was the mother of the Red Cross Seal, and that now war for humanity against disease brings it back to its fullest usefulness.

WONT FIGHT UNIONS

The Grocers and Merchants' Association of this city has not notified President Stockton of Oregon Retail Merchants' Association, that it is not in sympathy with hisclaim with his action in advising members to join the anti-unin Oregon Employers' Association.

The local association declares this would 'tend to bring on an industrial war in Portland," that Portland Merchants have always been friendly toward organized labor," and that the "Portland Grocers and Merchants' Association is absolutely opposed to any such consolidation and will not be bound to any such action of the State association in this matter."

It was further resolved that "a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Central Labor Council of Portland."

POWER OF UNIONS SHOWN

Ocers of the State Federation of Labor have issued a circular to the New York organized movement calling attention to the effective work of trade unionists in their recent campaign against the proposed State constitution.

"United Labor did not accomplish it all," said the circular. "There were other elements and other interests which opposed. Best these elements and interests would have been a negligible quantity in the result if the New York State Federation had not organized and led the fight. We knew what we were fighting against and gave our reasons for opposition so clear that all citizens knew the dangers of their liberty which lurked in the proposed fundamental law. The New York State Federation of Labor, through its representatives closely watched the work being turned out by the corporation-lawyer-ridden convention. We offered sugestions to place the complete work in conformity with the wishes of the citizens of the State these were ejected. We protested against what the convention was preparing to chake down the people of the State: but without result. Thus we were acquainted with the seriousness of the situation to the people when the work of the convention was finally submitted.

"By means of meetings, conferences, literature and speakers the State Federation of Labor turned on the searchlight of publicity to such an extent and effect that the labor forces awoke to the peril that menaced them and unitedly rebuked the convention and cast aside its work.

RESULTS OF TRADE UNIONS

Organizer Lowney, of the Western Federation of Miners, in his last report, says a 25 per cent wage increase has been announced by zinc mine operators and he gives these additional illustrations of the power of trade unionism:

"The men who heretofore had to eat and change their clothes in dirty doghouses are now being furnished with up-to-date dry houses, which shower baths and lockers, hot and cold water. Water pipe lines are also being installed in the minesand the deadly custom of blasting and squibbing during shift is being eliminated. Even the mine inspectors have called at the union headquarters and offered to co-operate in bringing about sanitary conditions in the mines. The wage scales also are not being tampered with a smuch as formerly."

DISHONEST LABOR AGENTS

Commissioner Woodman of the State Bureau of Labor has notified all emplyment agencies in this state that he has revoked the license of one private labor agent because he "sent would-be employees to different points where there was no employment and refused to return fee charged: and acted in an immoral manner toward female applicants, and posted notices of jobs when there were none listed."

The commissioner warns these concerns that he "will have no mercy for the agent or agency that mistreats its applicants."

ANAW FULSIMP

Christmas is coming. Such a glorious time we are going to have. By disposing of our watch and other personal effects to Uncle Samuel, and drawing on our pay check for two months in advance we figure we could satisfy the anticipations of some of our friends and relatives, but—. We discover our stock in the United States is worthless: that the landlord is yelling for his rent: that the boss refuses to pay us in advance: that Uncle Sam has classified our personal effects as "imitations": that our board bill is over due: that—oh picle, ain't that sufficient?

Oh well it comes but once a year. If Santa Claus is the good kid they say he is, he is going to give us a pocket book which will always contain coin of the realm no matter how much we draw.

By the way, Mr. Wilhelm Luce, we desire to ask an extension of thirty days on that little matter of frenzied finance.

The Elks are planning to have a Santa Claus come down the chimney Christmas eve. Howard French is a candidate for the job. Holman Tuller says that it will be necessary to remove the entire Macdonald avenue side of the building. Them's crool woids Holman.

Christmas is the one day in the year a fellow should be given something. We hate to think of what the citizens of our fair city would give the writer. Fortunately we have a very capable police force.

IT CAN'T BE DID

The bird who springs the tale that supply of dough is greater than nthe demand, is in our humble estimation as crazy as bedbug. The only place that this could possibly exist would be in a bankrupt bakery.

John A. Bell, alias the Ding Dong, will lead in the assault upon old man Pocket book at the Elks next Tuesday. Its in the name of charity, though and no one will object.

We are watching for the divorce col., very carefully. Rod Murphy was seen on the street yesterday unaccompanied by Wilhelm Cunningham. Bill must have an affinity.

Some people aren't particular about their clothing but others are. If you are particular, if you wish to look RIGHT see Schumaher, the Tailor, 231 Sixth street—He makes them CORRECT. He also does cleaning and pressing.

AT THE RICHMOND

Playing two distinct characters the admirers of the brilliant and beautiful Lasky star, Blanche Sweet, will have an unusual opportunity to see her at her best in "The Secret Sin" will be the attraciton at the Richmond theater tonight.

In "The Secret Sin" Miss Sweet plays twin sisters, one the knavish, tricky victim of the opium habit and the other a strong minded, young woman who is greatly loved by a wealthy, young oil operator. How the drug-racked sister, jealous of the man's affection for her sister, attempts to fix the fearful vice upon her and win the man's love for herself is brought about in a series of the most cleverly constructed scenes ever seen on the screet.

In addition to this big attraction there will be offered an unusual comedy attraction from the Keystone company, "The Battle of Ambrose and Walrus". A play of the great out doors world is "The Indian Trapper's Vindication."

REGENT THEATER

The Regent theater cordially invites the residents of Richmond to attend a free matinee performance to be given this afternoon from 2 to 4 p. m.

The first and second pictures of the Pathe "Why Pays?" series will be shown, to introduce this interesting series of pictures dealing with the vital problems of life.

Each episode is a complete story and features Ruth Roland and Henry King. Each one of these pictures recently had a week run at the Hippodrome in San Francisco. The third episode will be shown Tuesday Dec. 14.
